SYRACUSE, September 5 .- A long series of resolutions were effered, expressing love for the Union, a determination to vigorously prosecute the war for an honorable peace for all sections, and a general detestation of the Republican party and its principles.

The following are among the resolutions:

Resolved, That the Democracy of this State will sustain no war nor countenance any peace tending to the separation of these States, and that they will regard any attempt to pervert this conflict into the emancipation of the slaves as fatal to all the hopes of the restoration of the Governor Magoffin's message says Kentucky has a right to assume a neutral position; that she had no agency in fostering a sectional party in the free States, and did not approve the separate action of and secession of Southern States at the time.
